Celebrate Fall Season with Safety Awareness South Seattle Community College Presents Haunted Workplace

In the spirit of the fall season and safety awareness, South Seattle Community College's Safety Training Center presents the "Haunted Workplace" on October 26 and 27, 5:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

This free, adult event is directed to those working in fields where workplace safety is an important issue, including the following: professionals in the building and construction trades; and apprentices and students in vocational training programs that have a safety element, such as truck driving, automotive, welding, and aviation.

Participants in the "Haunted Workplace" have the chance to try the following:

- Find your way through the "Workers Compensation Maze."
- Visit the "Workers Graveyard."
- Climb into the "Confined Space of Death."
- See the "Little Machine Shop of Horrors!"

The Safety Training Center is located at the college's Duwamish Apprenticeship & Education Center. The Duwamish campus, in partnership with the business and industrial community, represents over 25 different trades. Students find training in such areas as Electrical, Painting, Sprinkler Fitting, and more.

For more event information, call (206) 763-5134. Visit us on the Web at <http://dept.seattlecolleges.com/duwamish/Safety.htm>. Parking is free.

Sponsored by the Safety Training Coalition, Safety Training Center, Washington Federation of State Employees #1488, and Washington Federation of State Employees #304. Donations will be accepted for the King County Labor Agency.
