AUTOMOTIVE NEWS FROM SOUTH

Automotive department recognized for environmental excellence.

South Seattle Community College's Automotive Collision Repair program has been awarded EnviroStars™ certification from the King County Department of Natural Resources & Parks, Local Hazardous Waste Management Program. The program received five out of five stars for properly managing and reducing hazardous materials, waste and emissions. This award acknowledges the program has demonstrated a strong commitment to environmentally responsible practices.

In other Automotive program news, over 300 students and staff visited the Automotive Technology program's 9th annual Automotive Tool Fair, where they had an opportunity to learn about and compare a wide variety of tools and equipment. Among the more than a dozen participating vendors was a 1977 Automotive program graduate, Glen Elder, now an account manager for Snap-on Industrial.
