Spanish-speakers find Training at South Seattle Community College

Speakers of Spanish as a first language and their employers now have a new resource at South Seattle Community College – Landscape Horticulture training in Spanish.

This inaugural class will begin with a Pruning Seminar on Wednesday, December 15 from 8:00 a.m. to noon. This course is hosted by the Continuing Education Department and will be taught in Spanish by an experienced landscaper and senior gardener from the Washington Park Arboretum. The course will be taught in the college's Landscape Horticulture training center, the South Seattle Community College Arboretum. Course material was prepared in part by college Landscape Horticulture instructors.

With a nominal investment, employees and employers can reap the benefits of training in an environment of mutual understanding. Call for a registration form at (206) 764-6699 or find one online at www.southseattle.edu and click on "Continuing Education. For more information, contact Luisa Motten at (206) 768-6782 or lmotten@sccd.ctc.edu.

The Continuing Education Department would like to provide more job training instruction in Spanish. We would like to know what training Spanish-speaking employees and their employers are seeking.
