A Labor of Love is a photography series chronicling the rich traditions of craftsmanship in the Puget Sound area, from wood workers and metal smiths to saddle makers and sail makers. This series honors those that have chosen a non-automated route in life, building one piece at a time, with all the precision and perfectionism that often seems lost in our ever-accelerating society. The exhibit celebrates our state's craftsmen and women, who continue to produce their goods and wares in the same fashion as preceding generation.

Narayan Mahon is an award winning commercial and editorial photographer based in Seattle, Washington. Most recently he was a 2009 winner of the Magenta Foundation's Flash Forward-Emerging Photographers and a finalist for the International Reporting Project Fellowship at Johns Hopkins University and a grant recipient of the Pulitzer Center on Crisis Reporting for his work in Somaliland.

Please join us for an opening reception for the artists and community from 5-7 pm on Tuesday, May 18, from 5 – 7 pm.

This project was made possible by the City of Seattle Office of Arts and Culture.

Art Gallery admission is always free and open to the public. For Gallery hours and future exhibits, visit: <http://studentlife.southseattle.edu/art.html>.

The mission of the South Seattle Community College Art Gallery is to introduce students and the community at large to unique artists and their works. Receptions are given to afford the opportunity of interacting with the artists. The local and campus community is encouraged to visit the Art Gallery to enjoy the inspiring works of art.
