Community Invited to See Their New Resource

South Seattle Community College invites the community to come celebrate the opening of Olympic Hall on Thursday, Sept. 23 at 1:00 p.m.

Participants will be able to see the building before the feet of fall students fill its halls. Ice cream will be enjoyed by all on the observation deck, taking in sweeping views of the Olympics, West Seattle and Downtown. Informational walking tours will also be conducted.

Olympic Hall promises to be a space for all, a place of Continuing Education and lifelong learning, as well as the site of rigorous study in the arts and sciences. It is a resource for today's and tomorrow's professionals.

Olympic Hall's 150-seat lecture auditorium is also a unique space to this part of Seattle, providing a home for college music and choral concerts and an arts and lecture series. The space will also be a resource for the local community.

The 47,000-square-foot, $19 million facility was financed with capital construction funds from the Washington State Legislature.
