FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

July 25, 2003

Free College Tuition for High School Students

High school students and their parents are invited to attend an information session at South Seattle Community College (SSCC) to learn more about its free, college-credit program for high school students – Running Start.

Running Start gives high school students the opportunity to earn a high school diploma and a two-year college degree at the same time, so students can get a jump on their higher education dreams at an earlier age. Students and parents save money because there are no tuition fees.

The open house on August 13 from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. will show how high school students can gain access to the dynamic world of the college campus. Students should consider attending if they are going to be a junior or senior next year, ready for an academic challenge, highly motivated and interested in taking college-level courses.

The following topics will be discussed:

- Is Running Start right for you?
- Find out how Running Start provides high school credits and free college credits at the same time.
- Find out about our SAT Preparation class.
