

Student Ambassador Program- General Ambassador

Greetings,

My name is Chris Wu and I am the general ambassador who is from Taipei, Taiwan. I am currently a student working for International Programs at South Seattle Community College. I am earning my Associate of Art degree at the college and hoping to transfer to the University of Washington in the near future. In my spare time, I like to read, draw or socialize.

A few reasons why I chose South Seattle Community College are its outstanding facilities and its small size classes which help the college to become a friendly learning environment for the students and staff. Its diversity of the college population is also one of the unique characteristics found at South. Furthermore, Seattle's calming weather and its easy transportation are other factors that make the college more approachable.

If you have any questions about Seattle life, housing, programs and services at South Seattle Community College, or any other question, you are more than welcome to ask me by e-mail.

Sincerely,

Chris Wu chriswu3503@msn.com
